FROM OUR VICAR

Dear Friends

In 1873 Arthur Sullivan, who is perhaps best known for his collaboration with W. S. Gilbert, wrote an oratorio called Light of the World. What Sullivan was tapping into was the 'spiritual zeitgeist' created by William Holman Hunt's painting of the same title.

Unlike Holman Hunt's painting Sullivan's Light of the World has not lasted as well. Despite its deliberate piety it was not embraced in the same way. Perhaps the issue was one of originality. Holman Hunt's was, at the time, radical, shocking: it was original. Sullivan, on the other hand, was unapologetically inspired by Handel's Messiah. The result is that although the light still shines on canvas, it has since faded on the stage.

Christmastime is riven with the call to be 'original'; 'give the one you love something truly unique this Christmas'. This call from the media is hard to resist, but also hard to fulfil. After all, once you've given something for the first time it is no longer original.

However, this pressure to give something original reveals something profound about originality; originality and novelty are not the same. The constant advertising pressure is often more to do with novelty than originality. The simply novel is forgettable, the truly original is unique. The difference in terms of products is, I suspect, retail alchemy. For the message behind Christmas it is key.

The light of the world celebrated by Holman Hunt, reveals God in a quite unique way. This God in human form was indeed unique, because, unlike the ancient Greek gods who novelly donned a human body like someone putting on fancy dress, he became fully human whilst remaining divine. Thus, the divine light shone from a human being.

The uniqueness of this divine light made manifest in humanity inspired to varying degrees of success both Holman Hunt and Sullivan, and continues to inspire millions and millions of people across the world.

In St Thomas' we have marked the uniqueness of this Christmas hope by commissioning a votive prayer stand, which stands in the centre of the church for worshippers and visitors alike to come and light a candle. There is nothing magical about the beauty of the stand or lighting a candle, but simply lighting a candle places our hopes and fears before the light of the world, who shared the whole of our life.

So whether you are gazing at a painting, listening to music or lighting a candle, remember the light of the world who came to transform our darkness into light. May I wish you all very happy Christmas, and prosperous New Year, and may the light of the Christ-child shine on you and those you love.

Your priest and friend

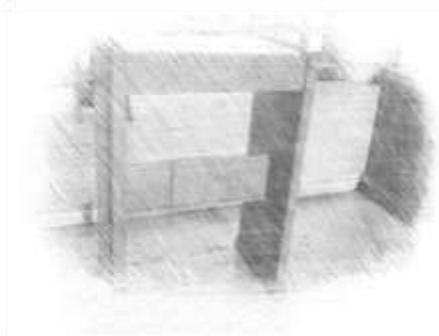

Fr. Robert

Parish News

Life at St Thomas' is always full at this time of year.

November saw us have our Parish Quiz Night on the 16th, our Christmas Fair on the 23rd, and special All Souls' Requiems. This year we invited back to St Thomas's, those families whose loved ones' funeral had been conducted here, for a special Choral Evensong. During this service a candle was lit for each name that was read out and placed upon the new Votive Prayer Stand. The Votive Prayer Stand, pictured below, has been a huge asset to the life of the Church and the care we can offer to the parish. This was a specially commissioned piece to fit in with the existing furniture, and made by King's in Hanwell. We are still very happy to receive donations towards the cost of the stand.

At the heart of St Thomas' during the season are our services which seek to connect with as many people as possible. There are services for all ages and meeting all tastes. Please see pages 8 - 10 for more details. If you would like more details please contact Fr. Robert, or look at our website.

The great news this year is the Panto is back! The Panto is Beauty and the Beast and is professionally written by Ben Crocker. Tickets are soon available so contact us at the ticket office (see advert on page 7) We hope you are able to join us for some the above, and so make the season what it should be, Good News.

Some Christmas Cracker Jokes!

Q: What pantomime takes place in a chemist's shop

A: Puss in Boots!

Q: How can you get your name in lights all over the world?

A: Change your name to Emergency Exit!

Man: Doctor, Doctor I keep thinking I'm a moth

Doctor: You don't need to see a doctor, you need to see a psychiatrist

Man: Yes, but your light was on!

Guides' Science Weekend.

The Guides spent a highly educational weekend at Paxmead in October. Jill, our leader, had organised a group of scientists from Imperial College to come and do presentations and experiments about a variety of scientific topics. They found out about Irrigation, Touch Sensors, Chemical Reactions, Cell Structure and Cardio-Vascular Systems amongst other things. They got to work with Dry Ice, Microscopes and even extracted DNA from a strawberry ! To finish the weekend they took part in a challenge called the Science Olympics which gave them the chance to use what they had learned. As well as this they enjoyed themselves sleeping in the bunkroom and being with their friends for the weekend. Thanks to Jill for organising the visitors and activities.

BROWNIE POST

The Brownies will be running a Christmas postal service as a way of helping people in the parish this Christmas. The post box will be in the Church from Advent Sunday, 1st December, until Sunday 15th December. There is no charge for this service and we are able to deliver to some streets outside our Parish. We include Midhurst Road but not roads to the other side of Midhurst Road (Salisbury Road, Mayfield Avenue etc). We deliver to Townholm Crescent, Humes Avenue, Studley Grange Road etc up to and including Green Lane and we deliver up to Oaklands Road, but not to Deans Road.

Prayer for the month of December

O God our Father, who by the glorious birth of your son did enlighten the darkness of the world: we Pray that the light of His presence may shine more and more in the lives of all mankind; that being filled with His spirit of goodwill, the nations of the world may inherit that gift of peace which He came to bring. We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord

Amen

St Thomas Organ Appeal

As some of you may know the church organ at St Thomas is in need of serious repair.

I have been collecting certain items that can be recycled for money for the organ appeal.

- The items I am collecting are as follows:
- Non savoury Biscuit wrappers - any brand.
- Plastic lids off coffee jars - any brand.
- Plastic foil bags that coffee beans and filter coffee comes in any brand.
- Plastic/foil bags Refill coffee granules come in any brand.
- Individual coffee sachets (like cappuccino and the one cup stick packets you get in hotels) any brand.
- Baby wipe bags - any brand.
- Kenco coffee refill packs.
- Tassimo coffee (& milk & chocolate) pods & the foil bags they come in.
- Actimel bottles - just the Danone brand.
- Shape yoghurt pots - just the Danone brand.
- Activia yoghurt pots - just the Danone brand.

Please put in the box on the landing in the Hall or in the box in the church porch.

Terracycle, the recycling company, make various items from this waste, or saving these things from land fill.

I have so far, in the past 18 months, raised £200, so this is a worthwhile project.

Thank you so much for your help.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR CHRISTMAS AT ST THOMAS'S

Advent Sunday

10am on Sunday 1st December

This is our first special service in the build up to Christmas. This year sees ceremonies and music inspired by the plainchant liturgy of the earliest church. All our Advent services incorporate the lighting of the Advent Wreath by a child and reflections on the rich themes of the Advent season, traditionally called the Great Os (come and find out why!). This takes place within our Parish Sung Eucharist when there is also Sunday School for young people.

Christingle

4pm on Sunday 15th December

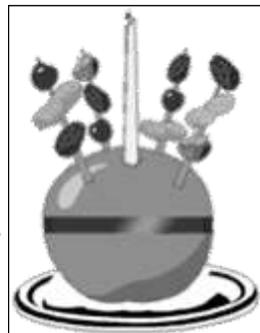

One event not to be missed is our Christingle service – a candle-lit family celebration that raises money for the work of The Children's Society, a voluntary organisation of the Church of England.

If you haven't been to one of our Christingle Services before, a brief explanation may help! The 'Christingle' itself, which symbolises the light of Christ's love, is a lighted candle mounted in an orange, which has a red ribbon or tape around it. Also mounted in the orange are four cocktail sticks, each bearing dried fruit or sweets.

The orange represents the world. The candle stands for Jesus, the Light of the World. The red ribbon or tape symbolises the blood of Christ, who shares in the suffering of the whole world. The fruits and sweets are symbolic of God's Creation and His love for us.

The highlight of our service is when the Christingles are lit. We then dim the lights in the Church and everyone sings the carol 'Away in a Manger'. It's lovely to see the children's excited faces illuminated by the Christingles. This service is a great way to remind the children about the true meaning of Christmas. Refreshments will be served in the Church Hall after the service.

Carols by Candlelight

6.30pm on Sunday 22nd December

Candlelight, Carols and Choir - these are the ingredients that go to make our service of Nine Lessons and Carols so special. This is your chance to renew your acquaintance with the best of the traditional Christmas Carols, to hear some old favourites sung by the Choir and, we hope, to discover some new ones. Come and raise the roof, then enjoy a glass of mulled wine and some mince pies. Christmas really starts here.

Christmas Eve Children's Service

6.00pm on Christmas Eve

This service is very much one for the children. It is an informal service with no choir or organ. The Sunday School perform a short play based on the nativity and then we sing some carols and say our prayers. Some of the figures are placed in the crib at the back of the church. It is a delightful service and with all the eager anticipation of Santa Claus, it is a great way to remind the children of what Christmas is celebrating.

Midnight Mass

11.00pm on Christmas Eve

Our celebration begins with "A Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten. This beautiful work for choir and harp sets the scene and the mood for the power and the simplicity of Jesus' birth. Enjoy the music in the candle-lit peace of the church, a moving prelude to the glories and joy of the Midnight Mass which follows at 11:30. There will be a short gap (5-10 minutes) between the end of the Ceremony of Carols and the start of the service to allow people to arrive/leave.

Midnight Mass has its roots in the very earliest of times when Christians on this most holy night to celebrate the first Eucharist of Christmas. It is both beautiful and joyous; a time to pause, reflect, and give thanks amidst candlelight, processions, traditional rituals, and the 'sweet singing of the choir'. It starts at 11.30pm so that your personal holy communion or Christmas blessing can be received as soon after midnight as possible. The service also includes the Christ-child being placed in the crib which is blessed during the service.

Christmas Day Family Communion

10am on Christmas day

This service is one for all the family, so bring your children, friends and relatives. When you enter the Church you will find the Christmas tree beautifully decorated. We sing hymns and carols and we have a short sermon - very much aimed at the children on this special day.

HYMN WRITING COMPETITION

To celebrate the 80th year of worship in our church building of St Thomas Hanwell, we are running a hymn-writing competition.

Don't panic! You are probably more qualified to write a hymn than you think. First, you don't need to worry about a tune. Why not pick a tune that you're familiar with, discard the existing text, and write some words of your own? (Do choose your tune carefully though: if for example you were to use Mendelssohn's magnificent tune for Hark! The Herald Angels Sing a congregation singing your hymn would be too easily distracted by the thought of the 'proper' words.) Second, if you sing or listen to hymns regularly (as we do at St Thomas), you instinctively know what 'works' and what doesn't. Third, you've got plenty of time to think about it, as the closing date for entries isn't until the end of September 2014. Finally, it doesn't need to be that long...2 good verses are better than 6 mediocre ones. Of course, you might want to write your own tune too, but this won't affect the judges' decision either way.

Once you've written your hymn, put it in a sealed envelope along with your name and give it to one of the judges who will select six to be sung at a special Songs of Praise in St Thomas towards the end of 2014. (The judges are Father Robert, Bev Bowles-Bevan and Tessie Newlyn.) Of these six, an overall winner will be chosen, at which point we will, should the author wish it, commission an original tune for the hymn.

Handy hints:

There exists a plethora of advice as to what makes a good hymn. You might find useful the following extracts. First from Eric Routley, minister, composer and musicologist (speaking on the BBC Home Service in 1952):

A hymn, like anything else, has to be put to practical use, and must be good, so to speak, 'at both ends'. It must be well made by the standards of the arts it employs—verse and music— but it must also be good for its special purpose. It must come out of the mind of its author as a good piece of work, and it must go into the mind and the mouth of the singer as a true act of worship.

Second, here's Dean McIntyre of the United Methodist Church:

In general, do the words communicate the thoughts in the best way, using language that is understandable and not contrived or flowery? The text should not stretch for a quality of wittiness, nor use language that calls attention to the text rather than to the thought being expressed. Perfection is rare, but should remain a goal. Most worshippers are not theologians. We are not poets, nor are we psychologists. And yet, we come together in worship out of a need and expectation to experience the presence of God, to hear from God, and to speak to God, in praise, thanksgiving, confession, sacrament, silence, and spoken and sung word. It is not enough for others to speak and sing words on our behalf -- preacher, liturgist, and choir. We must speak and sing the words for ourselves, yet we don't naturally know the words to use. It is the gift of the hymn writer to know those words and to place them in our mouths in the singing of the hymns. The hymn text gives us thoughts and words that we would ordinarily be unable to articulate and express on our own.

Lofty ideals? Certainly. Good luck, and get writing.

The Oxen

Christmas Eve, and twelve of the clock,
'Now they are all on their knees.'
An elder said as we sat in a flock
By the embers in fireside ease.

We pictured the meek mild creatures where
They dwelt in their strawy pen,
Nor did it occur to one of us there
To doubt they were kneeling then.

So fair a fancy few would weave
In these years! Yet, I feel,
If someone said on Christmas Eve,
'Come; see the oxen kneel.

In the lonely barton by yonder
coomb
Our childhood used to know,'
I should go with him in the gloom,
Hoping it might be so.

CHURCH ORGAN FUND

A PLEA FROM THOSE WHO HELP AT THE TOTS GROUP – COULD YOU SPARE US A LITTLE OF YOUR TIME?

The Tots Group is thriving as far as numbers of parents, carers and children are concerned. Most sessions we get around 30 young children, mainly babies, toddlers and younger children, along with their accompanying adults who enjoy the company and the range of play activities on offer. The group meet once a week on a Wednesday morning from 10.30 – 11.45 in the Church Hall. Everyone is very friendly. The adults and children seem to really enjoy themselves as do Father Robert and the volunteer helpers!

However, we are desperately in need of some more volunteer helpers. Currently we have Father Robert and three helpers. That is not enough people if 1 or more of us cannot be present for a session.

The Volunteer helpers are involved in the following ways:

- * Before the session we sweep the floor and check that the toilets are clean.
- * We heat up water ready for the drinks and get out the equipment, setting it out in the Hall ready for the start of the session
- * When the session starts we welcome those who come in and offer
- * the adults a tea or a coffee. There are drinks of water or squash for the children. Biscuits and fruit are available for a snack
- * As the children move around freely between the activities Father Robert and the volunteers are free to move round and talk to the adults and play with the children. However, we do not set up and formally lead play activities
- * At about 11.25 we start clearing up and make a seated semi-circle
- * around Father Robert and his guitar. We then sing 1 or 2 songs before handing out a range of hand puppets and soft toys ready to sing 'Old McDonald had a farm.' We then sing 'Happy Birthday' to anyone who has just had or is about to have a birthday before Father Robert leads us in a short prayer

Then the parents, carers and children are very good at helping move the equipment up to the corner of the hall nearest our storage area before leaving. We then put the equipment back into the storage area; put the dishwasher on; check the toilets are left in a suitable condition and clean the floor.

Father Robert and the helpers are usually ready to leave the Hall by about 12.20.

However, as I have already mentioned, we are desperately in need of some more Volunteer helpers. If you feel that you could spare us some time it could be in a variety of ways:

as a regular helper
as a part-time helper, coming in for perhaps 1 or 2 sessions a month as someone who could offer to come in regularly, if possible, just to help set up at the start of sessions or as an 'stand in helper' who would be willing to come in when we know that we will be short of helpers for a session

If you are interested you could always turn up at a session to see if it is something that you would like to be involved in. We are open during school term time but have a break at Christmas, Easter and during the summer. I should like to take this opportunity to thank the PCC for covering the rent of the Hall for our sessions, also providing the refreshments. This enables us to offer the sessions as a free outreach opportunity to the local community. I should also like to thank our current and past helpers who do and have done a wonderful job over the past few years that this group has been running.

Please consider if you have some time and enthusiasm which you could offer to share with us. You could let Father Robert know or get in touch with me on 8840 0038. It would be a wonderful New Year's gift which would be greatly appreciated by all involved in the Tot's Group. Linda Williams
